When the sun goes down — and the bats are back — Don't got no prob-blems, ain't got no — So when things get too tough and your chin is — to bed

 suit-case,
 dragging on the ground, the broth - ers come — 'round, ain't got no clothes to worry about, and e - ven down looks up

I get out of my dir - ty bed. I shake my pret - ty lit - tie ain't got no real estate or jewelry or gold mines to hang me up. I just throw in my bed luck heh heh, we can show you a good head, hand time with the tap my pret - ty lit - tie feet chilliest bunch in the land and we don't charge nothin'. feel - ing they Just
