Bright Country style

City girls just seem to find out
She gets up and pours herself a

early how to open doors with just a smile,

strong one and stares out at the stars up in the sky.

A rich old man, and she won't have to work.

Another night, it's gonna be a long

ry;
she'll dress up all in lace and go in style.

one;
she draws the shade and hangs her head to cry.

Late at night a big old house gets lonesome.
On the other side of town a boy is waiting.
She wonders how it ever got this crazy.

ly;
I guess every form of refuge has its price.
ing
with fiery eyes and dreams no one could steal.

zy;
she thinks about a boy she knew in school.
And it breaks her heart to think her love is on the run.
She drives on through the night anticipating.
Did she get tired or did she just get lazy?

Given to a man with hands as cold as ice,
'cause he makes her feel the way she used to feel.
She's so far gone she feels just like a fool.

So she tells him she must go out for the evening.
She rushes to his arms, they fall together.
My, oh my, you sure know how to arrest.
to comfort an old friend who's feelin' down,
she whispers that it's only for a while.
you set it up so well, so carefully.

But he knows where she's goin' as she's
She swears that soon she'll be comin' back for Ain't it funny how your new life didn't

she is headed for the cheatin' side of town,
she pulls away and leaves him with a smile.
you're still the same old girl you used to be.
You can't hide your lyin' eyes.

and your smile is a thin disguise.

I thought by now you'd realize,

there ain't no way to hide your lyin' eyes.
There ain't no way to hide your lyin' eyes.

Honey, you can't hide your lyin' eyes.
